TARIFF'S MAKING GOES ON SLOWLY

Senate Accepts President's Policy But May Amend Certain Schedules

HOUSE CAUCUS CONTINUES

Sugar Expected to Raise a Rucus in Meeting Today—Fight Also Expected on Wool Provision. Resume Work Again.

Washington, April 10.—The Senate's attitude towards President Wilson and the new tariff bill became fairly well defined today after another meeting of the Democratic members of the Finance Committee. Briefly, the Senate committee will agree to accept the view of the President and the House, as to free wool and one cent sugar, with the free in three years attachment, but it will exercise its right to amend other schedules and provisions of the bill as it thinks best.

The conference with the President yesterday brought a working agreement under which both the executive and the Senate leaders have yielded certain points.

The Senate Democrats do not propose to make any general increase in the rates of the tariff bill, or to make the Senate liable to the charge of having impeded the efforts of the President and House toward tariff reform.

Changes will be made in many schedules, however, the work having been started today, with a consideration of the first schedule in the bill. Some of the changes will be made.

The Senate leaders reserve the right to make changes after the bill reaches the Senate where they consider them necessary to make the tariff revision more equitable and scientific. The decision to stand with the President upon the wool and sugar tariff issues has brought the various forces of Democratic control into practical unity, it is claimed. Should the President and the House majority refuse to accept any change in the wool and sugar schedule it is understood the Senate committee will lend its support to the same programme.

The fight against free wool, however, has become more acute at both ends of the capitol; and several State delegations in the House are appealing to Democratic Senators for support in the fight to retain some duty.

The Democratic caucus of the House had reached only the third schedule of the new bill at the end of today's work. Representative Underwood and the other Democratic tariff leaders were making no apparent effort to limit debate or hasten a party decision on the bill. This deliberate progress has raised the hopes of the wool and sugar interests that they may be able to organize sufficient strength to change the bill in the caucus, so that it will pass the House with at least a small duty on wool and without the provision to make sugar free in 1916. This opinion is strengthened by the attitude of the Senate Democrats.

Many of them who favor at least a small wool and sugar tariff, are lending their influence to the fight in the House in the hope that the issue can be fought out there and will not have to be settled in the Senate.

Representative Underwood and his associates of the Ways and Means Committee succeeded in piloting the tariff bill through another day's debate in the House caucus without any change in its rates. Many phases of the tariff were gone into, with demands for changes in duties coming from many quarters.

The greater part of the day was devoted to work on the earthenware schedule which finally was approved after a plea from Speaker Clark and Representative Underwood for party harmony.

The schedule evoked a lively expression of views. The present tariff is 60 per cent. on most of the pattery and 25 per cent. on cheaper classes. The Democratic revision would reduce the 60 per cent. pottery to 35 and 40 per cent., and the 25 per cent. to 15 per cent.

Representative Whitacre from the East Liverpool, Ohio, district, pleaded for retention of the present tariff and declared that on an investment of $60,000,000 American pottery interests profited barely 6 per cent. last year.

When the metal schedule was taken up Representative Webb, of North Carolina, and others tried hard to get a reduction of the proposed rate on card clothing, a material used on the machines of textile manufacturers. The present law taxes card clothing 58 per cent. and the pending bill would make it 40 per cent.

Representative Underwood said tonight he thought the caucus would be almost through with the bill by Saturday night and that he expected that from the harmoniousness of the caucus that the House would pass the bill before the first of May.

Representative Broussard will present an amendment when the sugar schedule is taken up tomorrow and it is said that four other Louisiana representatives are counted upon to vote with him against the bill if it comes up in the House with anything like the present reduction on sugar.

The caucus adjourned shortly after 6 o'clock until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Key West, Fla., April 10.—The revenue cutter Yamacraw arrived here today with the captain and crew of the schooner Clifford N. Carver, which ran ashore about April 3rd on Tennessee Reef. The heavy weather recently caused the vessel to break up, when the cutter rescued the crew. She was from Newport News bound to this port, coal laden.

SHOOTING AT GREENSBORO

Library of Congress

White Man Loses Life and Several Arrests Follow—Tiger Operations at Both the Affair.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., April 10.—The police today grappled with a murder, which offered even more baffling circumstances than surrounded the shooting of young Ralph Earnhardt Monday night. Just before midnight last night W. C. Tucker, a white man about 35 years of age, was shot from ambush in the full glare of an electric lamp. He died almost instantly.

Later three men were seen running at a distance of several blocks from the shooting. One was a white man and the other two negroes. Their identity is unknown, but the police are positive that with its discovery, the identity of the gunmen will be known.

The shooting occurred at the corner of Percy and East Market street and in a notorious negro section. Within the block, three murders and innumerable shooting affairs have occurred within the past year. The position of the corpse and other facts indicated that the gunmen lay in a ravine on the opposite side of the street, which parallels the railroad tracks and which is under the shadow of a negro vaudeville house. From this point it would have been easy to have drawn a bead on the victim when he came within the glare of the electric light. It is believed a rifle was used, especially so since the one shot fired from a distance of 30 feet entered the left temple and went out through the right side of the head.

No one who actually witnessed the shooting has been found, though several people reported seeing three men running at a point further along East Market street. It is believed the gunmen circled behind the picture show house and later came back into Market street. The police today are following several clues, but are handicapped principally by their inability to trace Tucker's movements during the night.

It is believed, however, that he had been to some of the resorts in that section, which just now are in a state of turmoil because of recent police and detective activities. The only motive the police know is that the gunmen believed Tucker was an informer. They declare, however, that he has never played such a role. The dead man was a painter by trade and leaves a wife and two small children.

Developments in the shooting of Tucker from ambush last night were rapid and sensational this afternoon. Tonight John Fogleman, a white man of good connections, though himself under charge of retailing and out on $2,500 bond, is in jail charged with firing the deadly shot. Two negroes, Will Blount and Fletcher Reed, are held as material witnesses for the State. The coroner concluded his hearing at 8 o'clock tonight and the verdict was that the deceased came to his death from gunshot wounds fired by Fogleman.

The first leak came from a negro who admitted that Fogleman and the two negroes held were the men seen running from the scene. Fogleman was already under suspicion and officers had been searching for him since the shooting. He was located in a woods seven miles from town this afternoon and submitted to arrest. He denies all knowledge of the shooting, though he made conflicting statements of his whereabouts last night. He said he was in the woods to keep from being called as a witness because he had been with Tucker just before he was shot.

The negroes, Reed and Blunt, were subjected to third degree methods and they made a clean breast of the affair tonight. They say Fogleman fired the shot from the cover of a building when Tucker stepped in the light. They claim Tucker and Fogleman had quarrelled previously and that Fogleman believed Tucker had something to do with his recent indictment for retailing. The shot was fired from a 38-calibre pistol. Fogleman has been regarded as Greensboro's "blind tiger" king. A week ago he was tried in the city court in five cases and convicted in all. Judge Eure gave him an aggregate sentence of two years. Appeal was made to the Superior Court and Fogleman was out on $2,500 bond, which was given by his father, Edward Fogleman.

POSTMASTERSHIP FIGHTS

Pou and Kitchin Recommended—Wilmington Forces Lining Up

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Representative Pou today recommended the following for appointment as postmasters in his district: Ira T. Hunt, Kittrell; J. T. Stallings, Spring Hope; W. H. Ethridge, Selma; Duncan L. Webster, Siler City; Lee H. Yarborough, Clayton, and Mrs. Nellie G. Rowland, at West Raleigh.

It is understood Representative Kitchin has recommended J. M. Snipes for appointment as postmaster at Rocky Mount, though no official confirmation could be had tonight.

J. B. Mercer, Thomas E. Cooper, M. W. Divine, B. G. Empie, all of Wilmington, are here. Mercer and Empie are candidates for the postoffice at Wilmington. Representative Godwin and Senators Simmons and Overman have not yet reached an agreement as to whom they will appoint. There are a number of applicants and it is expected they will reach a decision within the next week or ten days.

BAD WRECK IN MEXICO.

Twenty Persons Killed and 40 Injured on Central Railway.

Mexico City, April 10.—Twenty passengers were killed and 40 injured in a wreck today on the Mexican Central near Tula, State of Hidalgo, because the engineer yielded to the importunities of the passengers.

The engineer, fearing to run into rebels, was moving cautiously. The passengers were similarly apprehensive, but, believing that greater safety lay in greater speed induced the conductor and engineer to consent to full steam. The train was ditched on a curve.

THE NAVAL POLICY TO ENSURE PEACE

Captain of Dreadnaught Delaware Tells of Poor Equipment of Country

ADDRESSES NAVY LEAGUE

Not One of Ships in Imposing Parade at New York Last October Ready for War—A Constructive Programme.

Washington, April 10.—Not one of the 31 battleships and 24 destroyers that constituted the fighting force of 127 vessels which assembled for review in New York harbor last October was ready for war, Capt. John Hood, the captain of the dreadnaught Delaware, the pennant ship of the fleet, told the Navy League today, at its session here. Capt. Hood, now a member of the Navy General Board, gave his views on a desirable naval policy.

"Not counting the British fleet, with which no conflict need ever be fearer," he said, "in 1920 Germany can put to sea 41 battleships, of which 25 will be dreadnaughts and 16 battle cruisers; France will have 38 capital ships, of which 23 will be dreadnaughts; Japan will have 36, of which 17 will be dreadnaughts or dreadnaught cruisers. Nothing short of the general board's policy of 48 battleships for the United States can even approach adequacy and a fleet inadequate is a burden without protection. At our present rate of growth, we, in 1920, could put out against those armaments 33 ships all told, of which only 16 will be dreadnaughts".

As a remedy he made the following suggestion:

"Take as the basis of your naval policy a building programme that will give us by 1925 a fleet of 48 first line battleships, with the lesser units and auxiliaries that go with them, since it is hopeless to attain that result by the date originally called for by the general board policy.

"Cut off ruthlessly and sell and scrap all vessels on the navy district of no fighting value and all superfluous yards and stations not needed for the maintenance of the fleet which uselessly absorbs large sums of public money in their care and up-keep. Provide and train enough officers and men on the active list, and in the reserve to fully man this fleet of war. Provide necessary basis and arsenals, and educate the people to the fact that no fleet is adequate for the preservation of peace which has not the readiness and strength to meet the enemy and say 'thou shalt not'. Show them its trifling cost as compared with even the smallest and most successful war—our war with Spain."

Capt. Hood declared that such a building policy as he outlined has been formulated by the National Congress in 1913, but never had been acted upon.

Perry Belmont urged the creation of a National council of defense as an expert body to advise Congress on military questions and pointed out that one of the planks of the Democratic convention at Baltimore declared in favor of it.

MORGAN FUNERAL.

New York, April 10.—J. P. Morgan left written instructions as to how his funeral services should be conducted. In accordance with these instructions, simple ceremonies will be held over his body at St. George's church, of which he was senior warden, next Monday. They will consist of the Episcopal burial service without eulogistic address of any kind.

Mr. Morgan's body is expected to arrive here on the steamship France Friday night.

Following requests in the memorandum written by Mr. Morgan and left with the Rev. Karl Reyland, rector of St. George's, the three bishops of the diocese with which the financier was most closely associated in his religious activity, will conduct the ceremonies, assisted by the rector. The bishops are the Right Revs. David H. Greer, of New York; William Lawrence, of Massachusetts, and Chauncey B. Brewster, of Connecticut.

Three hymns selecteed by Mr. Morgan—"Asleep in Jesus," "Lead, Kindly Light," and the recessional, "For All the Sainas Who From Their Labors Rest," will be sung by the combined choirs of the church, and Harry Burleigh, a negro baritone, of whose singing the financieer was especially fond, will render the solo, "Calvary."

The honorary pall bearers selected by the family are: George S. Bowdoin, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Robert W. DeForest, Henry Fairfield Osborn, Joseph H. Choate, Robert Bacon, George F. Baker, James W. Markle, Elbert H. Gary, Seth Low, Morton S. Paton and Elihu Root.

After the ceremony the body will be taken to Hartford, Conn.

BUFFALO CAR STRIKE.

Negotiations For Settlement Came to Deadlock Late Yesterday

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10.—Negotiations for a settlement of the strike of car men of the International Railway Company through the mediation of Mayor Fuhrmann came to a deadlock late today. The split was upon the question of dealing with a committee of the union in the adjustment of wages and the working hours for which the men struck. Both sides agreed upon all other points including the acceptance of the mayor as arbitrator upon any question that could not otherwise be adjusted.

Street car service under military police protection was maintained on two of the principal thoroughfares for six hours today. There was only one clash during the day and that was not of a serious character.

WELFARE OF YOUNG WOMEN

Problems Affecting Them Discussed at Fourth Biennial Convention of Y. W. C. A.—Effects of Extravagance.

Richmond, Va., April 10.—Problems affecting the welfare of young girls were discussed at the fourth biennial convention of the Young Woman's Christian Association here today. How the association hopes to deal with them was briefly explained by Miss Mabel Cratty, general secretary of the National board.

"Two things with which we contend", said Miss Cratty, "are conditions and sin, and there is a constant inter-play between these two factors. We must make the conditions under which women live safe; we must educate their sense of value and help them to get their bearings among the circumstances of modern life."

Miss Ella Schooley, in charge of association work at the Panama Pacific Exposition, estimated that 200,000 unattached young women will flock to San Francisco and while the question of caring for them will be serious, the association will endeavor to provide for their protection.

An unusual tribute was paid Miss Grace H. Dodge, of New York, president of the National Board, who presented her report this afternoon. At her urgent request the delegates refrained from applause at all times, but when she was introduced the entire convention arose and remained standing for several minutes as a mark of its respect and affection. Miss Dodge's report dealt with the growth of the association throughout the world.

In reporting for the committee on thrift and efficiency, Mrs. Samuel J. Murtland, of New York, dwelt largely upon the social aspects of extravagance, explaining how the society girl of wealth buys lavishly abroad, the daughter of the busines or professional man of measurable income feeling that her social success depends upon her ability to obtain the best American duplicate. The salaried woman, she added, adopts a mode of dress relatively beyond her means, while the girl in the shop would be more than human could she withstand the force of the ever-present temptation to keep the pace.

"Different causes contribute to the growing disinclination to marriage among both men and women," said Mrs. Murtland. "Busines opportunities have made women more independent. The stress of competition and the demands of more expensive standards of living have made it increasingly difficult for men to marry. Such signs of the times with the rapid increase in divorce and the scarcity of real homes must claim the consideration of every thinking woman."

HELLO GIRLS PACIFIED.

Win Plucky Fight With Telephone Company in Greater Boston.

Boston, Mass., April 10.—A strike of the 2,200 telephone operators in the 54 exchanges of Greater Boston, which has been threatening for the past few days, was averted by a compromise agreement reached today. Instead of the weekly wage increases averaging $1 each, which the union demanded, the agreement provides for the establishment by the company of a plan of anniversary payments. These payments are to be $25 at the end of the second year; $50 annually from the end of the third to the end of the ninth year, and $100 at the end of each succeeding year.

The so-called "split trick" abolition of which was demanded will not be compulsory upon any operator after 18 months' service. The lunch period will be lengthened and the girls will have the maximum number of holidays and afternoons off consistent with service requirements. These concessions are effective June 1st.

The agreement also provides for the creation of an adjustment committee to consider all grievances.

SCRAPPING ON BORDER.

Failure to Crush Federal Garrison Brings on Dissensions.

Naco, Ariz., April 10.—Failure to crush the small Federal garrison at Naco, Sonora, after two days' fighting in which the defender took the aggressive, developed today in a disagreement among the State troop leaders. Col. Calles moved the larger portion of his group to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz. Col. S. Calles and Bracamente blamed Gen. Obregon for the failure of artillery to arrive. The commander in chief laid the delay on Governor Pesquiera, who had promised cannon from Hermisillo, the State capital.

Gen. Ojeda during the day kept his Federals in the border town. There was no resumption of fighting.

OUTLINES

The Pope s condition was very much better yesterday, and he is now regarded absolutely out of danger, unless the unexpected happens.

The flood situation in the Mississippi valley was marked by optimism last night and it is believed now that the waters can be controlled in the centre section of the valley.

The conference at Chicago on marketing and farm credits have appointed a committee to go to Washington and confer with President Wilson as to some means of ameliorating conditions.

All hopes of averting the political strike in Belgium have vanished, and the indications are that the general tie-up of industries will begin on Monday. Leaders in the movement display the utmost confidence.

The tariff makers in Washington were still busy yesterday, the Senate rather more reconciled to the President's programme, though reserving the right to make amendments to certain schedules when the bill reaches the upper house.

New York markets: Money on call steady 3 to 3 3-4 per cent.; ruling rate 3 3-4; closing bid 3 1-2; offered at 3 3-4. Flour steady. Spot cotton closed quiet, middling uplands 12.50. Rosin steady, strained comon to good 5.35. Turpentine easy, machine barrels 43.

RELIEF IN SIGHT IN LEVEE COUNTRY

Battle to Hold Levees in Central Section of Mississippi Valley

MORE OPTIMISM MANIFEST

Water Falling at Memphis—Break Further Up Relieves Situation Below—Commission Authorizes Bonds.

Memphis, Tenn., April 10.—Optimism marked the expressions tonight of those in charge of the battle to hold the levees in the central section of the Mississippi valley against the flood-swollen river. Two gaps in the levee near Wilson, Ark., are serving as outlets for a great volume of water, relieving the strain on the embankments south of that point, and a day of sunshine has had its effect.

North of Wilson, at Osceola, Luxora and Barfield, the situation is still critical. South of Memphis, preparations are being made for a hard fight near Helena and the levee just north of the Beulah, Miss., crevasse of last February has shown signs of weakening.

At Memphis the river fell one foot and two-tenths today, standing tonight at the high stage of last year, 45.3 feet. The two breaks near Wilson, one at the upper end of Golden Lake and the other at the lower end near the village of Randomshot, occurred last night, the first about 6 o'clock and the second at midnight. The result will be a more rapid spread of the overflow over a somewhat greater area. Wilson, a town of 250 persons, is flooded to a depth of about three feet. No loss of life has been reported.

The Randomshot crevasse is along the same stretch of levee that gave way during the flood of 1903. The Mississippi levee commission met at Greenville today and authorized the issuance of $150,000 bonds as an emergency fund to be used during the high water fight.

CURRENCY LEGISLATION.

Several Bills Introduced Yesterday. Glass Confers With Secretary.

Washington, April 10.—New currency reform bills were introduced in the House today by Representatives Prouty, of Iowa; Nelson, of Wisconsin, and Palmer, of Pennsylvania. Congress now has nearly a dozen bills covering all branches of banking and currency reform, but none of which bear the endorsement of the financial committees of the two houses or of President Wilson. Representative Carter Glass, who probably will introduce the measure about which money reform debate will center in the House, conferred today with Secretary McAdoo, of the Treasury. Mr. Glass said at the end of the conference that there will be no difference of opinion between himself and the Secretary of the Treasury over the bill that he will introduce.

An effort will be made in the Senate to have further hearings, particularly on the subject of money stringency at crop moving times and the "sectional demands."

Representative Palmer's bill and one introduced earlier in the week by Senator Hoke Smith would give banks the right to loan money upon real estate mortgages and conveyances.

MARKETING AND FARM CREDITS

Scientific Agriculturists and Economists in Conference at Chicago Will Send Committee to See President at Capitol

Chicago, April 10.—A committee authorized today at the closing sessions of the conference on marketing and farm credits will go to Washington in a few days and present to President Wilson conclusions of the five hundred scientific agriculturists, financiers and economists who have met here for three days.

They will appeal for the establishment by the government of a bureau for thorough study of markets, crop and cost of transporting foodstuffs. They will assert that the appropriation of $50,000 for such an organization which now is pending, should be increased to $1,000,000. They will ask for Federal loans to farmers.

The chairman, Frank P. Holland, of Texas, also will name a committee in each State to place the matter before the State governments.

Arrangements were undertaken for a second National conference to open in Chicago on April 14th, 1914, and for an international conference at San Francisco in 1915.

The members who will go to Washington include T. D. Harmon, chairman, publisher of Pittsburgh; John Sebastian, vice president of the Rock Island Railroad, Chicago; E. W. Kirkpatrick, president of the Farmers' Congress, McKinney, Texas; Vance McCormick, Harrisburg, Pa., and Clarence Poe, publisher, Raleigh, N. C.

To the President they will read the report of the commitete on resolutions which states among other things:

"The cost of taking the products of the farm to the consumers is unnecessarily large and the methods employed are wasteful. Economical and efficient methods for the delivery of these farms' products are of pre-eminent importance in reducing the cost and raising the standard of living. The government should establish an effective agency for the study of the problems of marketing and for the distribution of information as to conditions and needs and rational methods of meeting these needs.

"We urge the Nation-wide necessity of a general reform in our currency, banking and credit system as the important legislation to be undertaken by Congress. Comprehended in this National plan must be facilities for securing the wide circulation of the notes of farmers, merchants, manufacturers and business men generally through proper discount and rediscount systems. We favor the enactment of both State and Federal laws which will provide for the organization and proper supervision of cooperative credit associations for both farmers and wage-earners, also cooperative long-time land mortgage association as well as joint stock and long-time land mortgage banking."

POPE'S RECOVERY

No Longer the Least Doubt of It—His Condition

Rome, April 10.—The change for the better in the condition of Pope Pius X, was absolutely certain today and the amelioration is so marked tonight that if no complications intervene his speedy recovery to normal health seems practically assured.

There was a complete absence of fever today and signs that the Pope's strength is beginning to return and the reappearance of cheerfulness in the patient are indications that the relapse from influenza which the Pope suffered April 8th has been mastered. The pontiff again was able to hear mass this morning and to take communion. He even sat up in bed while hearing a report fro mthe papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val.

His Holiness also granted a longer conversation than usual to his sisters and niece, who showed unmistakable signs of relief at the apparent improvement in the Pope's health.

Speaking to the Associated Press after visiting their brother, the Pope's sisters said:

"Now we breathe again. What we have suffered these last few days is terrible. When he is ill we feel as though we were dying. When he is well we are in a seventh heaven. We live in his life."

Prof. Marchiafava made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"The Pope is much better. If there are no complications he will have entirely recovered in a few days. The Pope's constitution is robust and he has never wasted his strength. The heart and other organs have done their duty and are performing their functions normally.

"The pontiff had completely recovered from the original attack of influenza; even convalescence was over and perhaps the relapse was due to the repeated changes in the temperature the last days during which the Pope gave several audiences.

"The present illness from which the Pope is suffering is merely a recurrence of the disease. The new complication has supervened and no alarming symptom has been present. Certain symptoms, however, which remain and which we must eliminate, are incident to influenza and the age of the patient."

FRIEDMANN TO DOCTORS.

Instructing Them as to Use of Vaccine at Providence, R. I.

Providence, R. I., April 10.—Dr. F. F. Friedmann will instruct four Rhode Island doctors tomorrow in the use of the vaccine which he claims can cure tuberculosis. These will be the first physicians in this country to be told how to administer it.

A large number of patients were treated by Dr. Friedmann today. Among them was Miss Sophie Berger, who was given a treatment in New York. Then she walked on crutches; today she was able to walk without assistance. Two of the patients paid Dr. Friedmann today for his treatment but the doctor paid the return car fare of a patient who did not have money enough to go home.

Dr. Friedmann has not decided whether he will be able to go to Washington tomorrow to speak at the dinner of the Gridiron Club.

W. R. HEARST SUES AN ATLANTA MAN

Claims F. L. Seely Misrepresented Obligations of Georgian Newspaper

U. S. COURT AT GREENSBORO

Would Recover $6,000 From Former Owner of Georgia Paper—Defendant Now Residing at Asheville, N. C.

Greensboro, N. C., April 10—William R. Hearst, owner of the New York American, the Atlanta Georgian, and a string of newspapers over the country, has started a suit for $26,000 here in the United States Court for the Western District of North Carolina against F. L. Seely, former owner and publisher of the Atlanta Georgian.

The summons was filed with Clerk Millikan today and the complaint will be made in a few days. The action grows out of the sale of the Atlanta Georgian to Hearst by Seely, who was then owner. The complaint will allege that Mr. Seely guaranteed that the debts would not be greater than a certain sum, Mr. Hearst taking over the debts in the purchase of the publication. The complaint will further allege that Mr. Seely made representations that were not borne out by the later facts, on account of which damages in the sum of $26,000 is asked.

Mr. Seely is residing in this State at the present time, having his home in Asheville.

DRAINAGE CONGRESS MEETS.

Proposal for Department of Public Works is Discussed.

St. Louis, April 10.—Work of the National Drainage Congress, which began a three-days session here this morning, moved rapidly and sentiment among the delegates apparently crystallized around the plan for the creation of a National Department of Public Works.

The executive committee began a session at 5 o'clock this evening to shape definitely the proposals that will be submitted to the delegates.

Creation of a Department of Public Works was brought up in the Congress soon after convening today when Governor Major, of Missouri, suggested that David R. Francis, of St. Louis, would make an ideal head for that branch of the government service.

Mr. Francisco suggested that Col. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, would be the man for the place.

The plan was elaborated on in the address of Isham G. Randolph, of Chicago, former chief engineer of the Chicago drainage canal. Mr. Randolph made an analysis of the flood prevention and reclamation problems confronting the people of the Mississippi valley and emphasized that the problem of flood control was one primarily for the Nation and not for the separate States.

"The tribute levied by the floods," he said, "mounts up to thousands of human lives and into millions upon millions of property destroyed."

R. B. Oliver, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., said eminent engineers had given assurance that the flood waters of the Mississippi can be controlled and the levees made absolutely safe at an expenditure of $60,000,000.

David R. Francis said the value of the drainage of swamp lands had been demonstrated in Missouri, where 488,000 acres, reclaimed at a cost of $5,000,000, is appraised at $13,500,000.

At the session this afternoon, Col. C. McD. Townsend, engineer corps, U. S. A., read a paper on "Flood Control of the Mississippi River", and Alexander R. Lawton, vice president of the Central of Georgia Railroad, spoke on "The Drainage Problem for the Railroads of the South."

THE BELGIUM STRIKE.

All Hope of Averting it Seems to Have Been Abandoned.

Brussels, April 10.—All hopes that the general strike for manhood suffrage would be averted have vanished, one by one, and it now seems certain that the most sweeping attempt yet made in the world's history to apply organized labor methods for purely political ends, will begin Monday.

Leaders in the movement display the utmost confidence, and the strike fund now amounts to approximately $3,000,000, and fresh contributions from home and abroad are pouring in hourly. The bulk of the conservative middle class population who gave up the anxiety because of the assurance of the government and clerical press that the present strike was a bluff and a bogy regarding it with unconcern, are now beginning to be badly scared, and these fears are increased by forebodings of disorders and brigandage with which a certain section of the press is filled. The rush to obtain stocks of provisions is increasing.

The socialists, however, laugh at these terrors. They profess to believe that the measures they have taken are fully adequate to prevent serious trouble. They urge prohibition of the sale of liquors and the closing of saloons, and have themselves forbidden parades and meetings of their adherents.

The government working in conjunction with the provincial and communal authorities, is putting the finishing touches on its measures to preserve order but as yet hesitates to call out sections of the militia, not wishing too greatly to exaggerate the importance of the movement, and also because it fears a repetition of acts of mutiny, which occurred after the last elections.

BOSTON DEFEATS NEW YORK

Mayor Gaynor Tosses First Ball for Opening Game in Gotham

New York, April 10.—Boston defeated New York in the first game of the season here today before a big crowd by a score of 8 to 0. The usual opening day ceremonies were omitted with the exception that Mayor Gaynor threw out the first ball. Sunless skies and a cold wind made conditions unpleasant alike for players and spectators.

Perdue held the home club at his mercy, and the champions made only two singles. Not one of McGraw's men got further than second base. Boston started to hit Tesreau in the fourth, and from that inning on they rapped the ball hard. Crandall was slaughtered in the ninth inning. Maranville, the recruit shortstop of the visitors, was the bright star of the game, both in the field and at bat.

HARD HITTING BY BROOKLYN.

Copped Game from First Winners by Score of Eleven to Three.

Philadelphia, April 10.—Hard-hitting by Brooklyn which was featured by timely singles by Daubert and a home run by Fisher in the early innings and a three-bagger by Cutshaw in the eight with the bases filled, gave the visitors the victory in the opening championship game here today 11 to 3. Ragan was very effective, except in the eighth inning, then Miller and Cravath, pinch hitters, had safely hit and scored on sacrifice flies. The cold, cloudy weather kept the attendance down.

PLAYER HAS SMALLPOX

Pitcher of American Association at Minneapolis Sent to Pest House

Minneapolis, Minn., April 10.—The smallpox scare precipitated among the ball players of the Minneapolis club of the American Association practically was dissipated tonight. City health physicians declared Pitcher Ralph Comstock has a very mild attack of the disease. Only one or two players have been exposed to the disease and they will be vaccinated. Comstock was taken to the pest house today.

PRESIDENT WILSON THERE

Took Part in Opening Game at Washington Yesterday—Score 2 to 1

Washington, April 10.—President Wilson forgot about the tariff and matters of State for two hours today and watched Washington defeat the New York team of the American League, by a score of 2 to 1 in the opening baseball game of the season here. He tossed the first ball from the grandstand, according to custom.

Vice President Marshall, members of the cabinet, Senators, Representatives and a great number of official folk were there—a notable part of a crowd of 15,000 people who filled the ball park.

Bundled in a heavy fur-lined overcoat, the President sat with his daughter, Miss Eleanor, and Secretary Tumulty in a box to the right of home plate. He was an interested spectator, applauding and cheering frequently as the game proceeded. The weather was raw and the skies cloudy. Mr. Wilson has always been a baseball "fan," being a frequent visitor at the college games at Princeton and himself a player in his youth. Charles Sterrett, who played first base for New York, was one of his pupils at Princeton three years ago.

The President was cheered enthusiastically by the crowd. He acknowledged the greeting, turned down the brim of his brown fedora hat and sat down to watch the game. New York scored in the first inning when Daniels was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on Gandil's muff of a hot grounder from Welter and tallied on Hartzell's single.

The Washington team got men on bases frequently after that but never was able to reap any gain from it until the seventh. In that inning, Ainsmith, the local catcher, was hit by a pitched ball though Frank Chance, the New York manager, protested from the bench that he had projected his arm deliberately. Shanks got to first safely on a high throw by McConnell, the New York twirler, to Sterrett. McBride sacrificed, advancing both men. Walter Johnson fanned but Moeller cracked out a single to right that scored two runs and gave the Washington team the game.

For an early season game there were few errors and the game did not lack in exciting plays.

The President stayed throughout the nine innings and then autographed several baseballs for the players.

"TY" STILL HOLDS OUT

Says His Demands on Detroit Are Not Unreasonable

Augusta, Ga., April 10.—"When President Navin accepts my offer I will report at once and am in shape to jump right into the game," tonight declared Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the Detroit American "hold out."

Cobb, who arrived here this afternoon, declined to divulge the nature of his latest "offer" to the management.

"My demands are not exorbitant," he said, "and President Navin has told me that I am worth all I ask, but the Detroit management is unable to meet the salary demands. If I am worth it I ought to be paid what I ask."

Cobb denied emphatically that any kind of an agreement has been reached between himself and the Detroit management. The fact that he has called off the games scheduled for this week for his "all-star" team, he says, should not be construed to mean that he has reached any decision.

Bedford City, Va., April 10.—Owen Goggin, a negro who about a week ago attempted to criminally assault Mrs. Ras Nance, a white woman living in the country, about 14 miles from here, was today found guilty and sentenced to electrocution on June 6th.

ATHLETICS TAKE FIRST.

World's Champions at Boston Drop Initial Game to Philadelphia.

Boston, April 10.—The world's champions lost to the Athletics, of Philadelphia, in the opening game of the season today 9 to 10. Mayor Fitzgerald put the ball into play from the pitcher's box. Six pitchers followed him during the afternoon. Joe Wood, star of last season's campaign, lasted but five innings, during which the Athletics drove out nine safe hits and scored seven runs. Strunk scored the last of these tallies by stealing home.

Coombs developed poor form after three hitless Boston innings, the Red Sox scoring five runs during his tenure of the mound.

TRINITY WINS NINTH

Score 7 to 4 With V. M. I. in Durham Game Yesterday

Durham, N. C., April 10.—Trinity won its ninth victory today defeating Virginia Military Institute 7 to 4. The game was snappy throughout with the exception of the first inning, when several errors were made by both teams. The Virginians started scoring in the first, Sewell scoring on Maddox's error and Gissipie scoring on Clarkson's infield hit. Spence and Edgerton scored for Trinity in the first, the former on Adam's hit, Edgerton being forced home. In the fourth the Virginians made two more and Trinity one. Trinity scored twice in the sixth, once in the seventh and once in the eighth. Features of the game were two timely hits of Anderson in the fourth and sixth, each scoring a man. Maddox did pretty batting, getting two two-baggers. Creswell, for the Virginians, got the only three bagger of the game. Pitts fanned seven men in the first four innings but weakened later. Batteries: Fitzgerald and Maddox; Pitts and Pitts. Hits off Pitts, 14; Fitzgerald 7. Umpire, Henderson.

BLACK HORSES IN 1913 BASEBALL CAMPAIGN.

Although there are many who look with doubt upon his ability to manage such a troublesome bunch of athletes as the Chicago Cubs, Johnny Evers is expected to make a good showing among the leaders in this year's National League race. Johnny himself declares that if Pittsburg helps him to keep the Giants from running away he thinks he will have a good chance of skinning in ahead of the whole bunch in the final sprint for the pennant. Jimmy Callahan, as pilot of the Chicago White Sox, is credited with being one of the cleverest leaders in his organization, and as he has a stronger team than ever this season he has hopes of landing the pennant, while Washington, Philadelphia and Boston are slashing away at one another. Charley Dooin's Philadelphia Nationals is a team that can be classed with the strongest in the older organization and if his men manage to avoid going to the hospital in squads, as heretofore, he has a good chance of copping a National League championship for the City of Brotherly Love. Joe Birmingham made such a fine showing after he took hold of the Cleveland Naps last season that there is no telling what he will do with a whole campaign in front of him. He has a fine pitching staff and the finest pair of clean-up artists in the game in Lajoie a nd Jackson.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

THE floors and doors appear to wait until the dust germs congregate; the housewife hails each dawning day with grim and harrowing dismay. Says she: "My work will NEVER end; o'er dusty stretches I must bend, until, with aching back and hands I finish what the day demands."

The "Floor-and-Door-a" Girl

Then Mrs. Jones, one afternoon, dropped in, at time most opportune. An optimist, she knew the wiles of household work—its sighs and smiles. She told of how she polished floors and woodwork and the endless doors, until when Hubby saw them, too, reflections said: "Why, howdy-do!"

"The Gold Dust Twins," said she, "I find, help leave the woes of dust behind. Each mark of sticky hands on doors, each tread of muddy feet on floors, all fade before the slightest touch of Gold Dust, and the work is such that, when the woodwork has been done, I find said work was only fun." This line of reasoning must show that those who've tried it OUGHT to know. If you, in one day's duties, find that there's a Grouch in ev'ry Grind, invite the Gold Dust Twins to share such tasks as tire and fret and wear.

From kitchen floor to bedroom suite, these tireless little chaps make neat, and best of all, the sum expense is measured up in meager cents. They put both dust and dirt to rout and run the last old microbe out.

The KOH-I-NOOR Dress Fastener has the patented Waldespring which keeps the dress from ever coming undone until you unfasten it. It is flat with rounded edges. It cannot pull off in the wash—will not cut the finest fabric—stays sewed on and gives the garment that smooth effect. STATE TRUST CO. OPERATIONS

Case of C. H. Bowlds Postponed—Other Officers Reported to Have Gone South.—Several Charters Issued Yesterday

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 10.—The case of C. H. Bowlds, secretary-treasurer of the State's Trust Co., Wilmington, in which he is held on the charge of false statements to the Corporation Commission and false entries on the books of the Bank of Macclesfield, Bank of Angier and the Bank of Claremont, organized by the State's Trust Co., and recently closed by the Corporation Commission under sensational circumstances, was called for preliminary hearing in the Raleigh police court today and continued until next Wednesday, April 16th.

Walter L. Watson is representing Bowlds as counsel and made an unsuccessful effort to get a reduction of the $5,000 bond in default of which Bowlds is held in jail. It has been learned through a long distance telephone conversation between Bowlds and his wife in Wilmington, that President E. H. Smith, of the State's Trust Co., has gone to Alabama and W. O. Tarver, vice president, to Augusta, Ga. There are warrants outstanding for them and if located the State authorities will undertake to extradite them for prosecution.

A warrant came this morning from Angier, sworn out by business men there against one Stringfellow, said to be of Raleigh, who promoted the formation of the Bank of Angier for the State's Trust Co. He is charged with fraudulent representations in securing subscriptions to the stock of the State's Trust Co. Business men wherever these shares of stock have been given and notes given in payment are preparing to resist payment as far as possible. It is probable that the State's Trust Co., people have rediscounted as much of it as possible and it is a question as to how much of it will be found in the hands of innocent parties who have been induced to discount it.

It develops that the State's Trust Co., was selling stock and preparing to open banks in Hoffman, Richmond county; Pinetown, Beaufort county; Fallston, Catawba county; Stedman, Cumberland county, and Biscoe, Montgomery county. A big printing company has an account of over $3,000 against the State's Trust Co., for printing stationery for banks at all these places as well as for the banks recently closed by the commission at Angier, Macclesfield and Claremont. The commission has advised a representative of this concern that there is not the least chance for collecting any part of their claim.

Governor Craig commissioned today F. Brocknell, of this city, as State standardkeeper. He gives a $500 bond for the proper discharge of his duties. He succeeds Lonnie Lunsden, resigned, also of Raleigh.

The Harmon Engineering Co., of Charlotte, is chartered with $11,000 capital authorized and $1,500 subscribed by C .C. Harmon, Paul V. Harmon, of Charlotte, and W. L. Robbins, of Concord.

Another charter is for the Holly Hill Co., of Tryon, Polk county, capital $50,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by Emmie Payne Erskins, W. B. Stone and others for real estate development and promotion.

KINSTON NEWS NOTES.

Farmer Still Missing—Postoffice Receipts Heavy—Personal Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., April 10.—The belief of friends that Joseph Jones, a prominent farmer who disappeared in this city Saturday night, did not kill himself as he stated that he would do in a letter to a son-in-law, is strengthened by information from a Norfolk Southern conductor, who says that a man corresponding with the description given of Jones was on his train Saturday night after 11 o'clock, ostensibly bound for Norfolk. The reason for his strange conduct are not yet explained. Jones' home is between Ayden and Grifton, 15 miles from here, and he was the superintendent on a farm owned by local men. He wrote his son-in-law that he was going to take poison, his "troubles being more than he could bear." The farmer had several business dealings here before 10 o'clock Saturday night, since which time he has not been seen here or at his home, and all of the transactions would indicate that he had no intention of committing suicide, including the purchase of a watch. The police in Norfolk and elsewhere were asked to look out for him. It is thought by some of his friends that Jones was dissatisfied with his location, and left secretly to seek a new field, using the letter announcing the purpose to take his life as a blind.

The Kinston postoffice's receipts during the fiscal year recently ended increased nearly four times as much as in the previous 12 months, without the aid of the parcel post. It is believed that if it had not been for the inauguration of the latter the receipts would have been even greater, as a great deal of matter which was formerly sent second-class went during the last quarter as parcel post mail, at a lower rate. The last year was by far the most successful in the olcal office's history, increasing over the previous year $2,260.89. The increase from April to July, 1912, was $700, and in the last quarter it was $800.

Mr. R. B. Parsons and family, who have been well known in the business and social life of Kinston for several years past, have left for Maryland to visit relatives before going to California to make their home. Mr. Parsons will engage in business with a brother in San Pedro.

BERRY DAMAGE LARGE.

Wilmington & Weldon Section Suffers Heavily From Weather.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rose Hill, N. C., April 10.—The recent frost and cold damaged strawberries fully 40 per cent. in Duplin county. Inquiries from all over this section have been made, and in every instance the growers say that this is about the actual damage. The Mount Olive Tribune today says 50 per cent. damage to that section, and further says that the loss to the growers will reach fully $50,000.

All other truck crops are greatly damaged. The reports going out through the press that the damage is light is misleading and will do the growers harm. If another cold wave strikes us like the one of the first of the week, the berry business in this section will be a failure. Only a few small shipments have gone forward thus far from all points above Wilmington.

THE MORNING STAR

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

Friday, April 11, 1913.

Reactionary towns still insist on having a Main street.

A man is not necessarily crooked because he is bent on having his own way.

Now plant pearl oysters so you can get a crop of pearls along with your oysters.

One notable difference between the manners of a mule and a man is that the mule never kicks on his food.

Probably the "bib" was put on bibulous for the reason that those who are bibulously inclined often have use for the bib.

No doubt President Wilson felt like he ought to go before Congress and say it to the faces of the reactionaries and progressives.

We never worry about the styles in Winsome, Worthwhile Wilmington. They are all pretty because there is really something in them.

The old nickle has not gone to a premium yet, although it is the only one that can be used effectively in a chewing gum slot machine on Sunday.

A city that cannot brag about the ability, efficiency, progressiveness and economy of its administration is deprived of fertile ground for boosting.

Our Uncle Joax says a man who eats with his knife is mor'n apt to give a man a square deal, but a feller that eats with a fork is mor'n apt to stick you in a trade.

It was intended for Eve to "honor and obey", but Adam was guilty of contributory negligence for letting Eve get out of his sight where she could have her own way.

The Savannah Morning News says "the Democratic party is on trial." Care should be taken not to admit any evidence offered by Republicans who have had trouble with the defendant.

The Agricultural Department advises people to eat onions and be healthy. The best time to eat onions is two or three days before going to the picture show.

Everything about the proposed Democratic tariff may not prove according to Hoyle, but it can be generally approved on its underlying purpose to cut out protection graft.

Wilmington needs a well arranged recorder's court room, with bench, bar and seats that would give Justice a dignity and solemnity that is not expected to pervade a trial justice shop.

In adopting commission government, Atlantic City, N. J., used Memphis as a model. With two cities in adjoining States furnishing model forms, Wilmington tinkers with her plan every two years. Why not follow a model?

London is fretting itself with a discussion of the relation of red hair and beauty. What do we care about the relationship of red hair, just so most of those who have it are pretty and charming like all the balance of them?

Says the Norfolk Virginian Pilot: "Dr. Max Muller announces the discovery of a picture of one of the rulers of ancient Egypt holding his wife in his lap. What or where is the significance, seeing that the wife was his own." Evidently his favorite one.

Speaking about home making, there is no comparison between a woman and a man. Besides that, if a man were to hang around the house and try to do housekeeping he would start something that would result in his being put right out and told to mind his own business. Even the cook would get on a high horse.

Assistant Secretary of State Huntington Wilson (Republican) got off on his ear and resigned because the Democratic administration considered that Uncle Sam was out of place in a copartnership with the money lenders. Since getting off on his ear, Huntington hasn't performed any other trick that will increase his notoriety.

Whatever relief the American people might have had from a third party, if it could have been depended upon to stand by the people, has been made impossible for the reason that the Progressive party offers Third Termism along with its nostrums. There is less room in the United States for the Progressive party than for either of the old parties.

Suffragettes who have been kicking up such a row in England and show no disposition to be humbled by being fed through a quill while their noses are held, have ruined their chances for matrimony. No man would have the nerve to take chances on a wife who would pull a dignified stateman's whiskers and smash helpless and struggling policemen in the nose.

The English suffragettes have messed around till they have found something in the marriage service to kick about. They have come to the obstreperous conclusion that an indignity is heaped on the bride when she is required to promise to "honor and obey." That's no indignity. It is her way of making a concession in view of the fact that before the bargain is clinched the groom is made to repeat before witnesses: "With all my earthly goods I thee endow."

OUR UNREALIZED RESOURCES.

Sometimes it takes a country, a city or community a long time to realize its resources. Indeed, it even requires centuries for some countries to realize themselves. The South furnishes a notable example of that in its failure for a hundred years to realize the possible wealth in its cotton seed. Until 40 years ago the greater quantity of the South's cotton seed was thrown away, but now cotton seed are worth about 173 millions of dollars to the South in addition to the value of the cotton crop. Cotton seed oil mills now constitute one of the greatest industries of the South. Not only has the oil immense value, but so has the stock feed produced by the oil mills. Literally no portion of the seed now goes to waste. Even the short lint is removed and manufactured into felt, imitation morocco, unbreakable combs, and other articles. Many of the Derby hats made in this country are made of the felt that is manufactured from the short lint that is removed from cotton seed in the process of manufacturing oil. It is useless to mention the numerous uses made of cottonseed oil, since it is our only purpose to point out here our failure to realize a resource that came under our observation every day for a century.

We have other resources that are as great as our once neglected cotton seed. We have not only waste materials but actual resources over which we are asleep. Shall others discover them, or shall we make a study of them and develop them ourselves? There are lots of them right in North Carolina and we are walking heedlessly over them every day.

Let us go to work and discover them. Let us create industries in the process of their utilization. Let us manufacture our raw materials and waste products here in the South, not being content merely to furnish them as raw materials for great industries in other countries. We are doing that right now, but we should convert all our raw materials into the finished products right in the State. All raw materials should be converted into the finished products right where the raw material is produced.

We have let others make the most out of our cotton seed products, whereas every product that comes from cotton seed oil should be finished to the last dot where the oil is made. What would be thought of us if we were to ship our seed North to be made into oil? Well, then, what ought we think when we send the oil and stock feed away for others to convert into the finished product?

We only use cotton seed to emphasize our failure to observe and realize upon our resources as early as we should. We do that in order to emphasize the further fact that there are scores of other resources that ought to cause us to put on our thinking caps. Study of the South's resources will cause us earlier to realize what they are. Initiative, enterprise, industry and capital will enable us to fully benefit from them when we realize them as sources of wealth. This is a plea for us to study the South's resources. Don't let us walk or stumble over our neglected resources. Why should we be caught napping when there are great opportunities all around us?

There are so many of these resources and opportunities that it would require a book to group them. They include commerce, manufacturing, agriculture, business and industry along various lines. Why should each of us not go to specializing, generalizing, discovering and realizing?

The Manufacturers' Record has furnished us a great text book in its "The South the Nation's Greatest Asset." We ought to pore over this comprehensive symposium of Southern resources and progress. It will help us to recognize and discover opportunities. We can do some exploiting ourselves. The Manufacturers' Record furnishes the meat. It is up to us to do the chewing and benefit from the assimilation.

If you have never tried to study the marvelous resources of the South, begin now. It will inspire more interest than a novel. There is nothing more fascinating in all the realms of literature and art. While we should take all of them in, we should not neglect the broadness of the explored field and the vastness of the undiscovered reaches of the South's possibilities.

OUR NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITIES

There are a whole lot of neglected opportunities in "The Nation's Garden Spot." If we can't keep busy at something else we ought to get busy seizing some of the opportunities that stare us in the face. We could take up this page with a list of our neglected but robust opportunities, but we are going to hark back to just one that is rich in its possibilities. We have hammered on it before, but it needs hammering till something comes of it. We have got to keep on striking till shape is given to the thing that we are hammering. Rather than re introduce the subject ourselves, we will let it come to your attention from this announcement found in the columns of the Greensboro Record:

"To give practical aid to livestock growers along its lines, the Southern Railway Company has secured the services of two experts in animal husbandry: Dr. Walter Sorrell, who will be stationed at Greensboro, and will work in Virginia, North and South Carolina; and Dr. C. D. Lowe, who will be stationed at Chattanooga, Tenn., and will work in Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Kenutcky and Missippi. They will be known as assistant livestock agents and will report to Mr. F. L. Word, livestock agent, Atlanta, Ga. Both Dr. Sorrell and Dr. Lowe have had years of practical experience in animal husbandry work. Both have been in the service of the United States government and are thoroughly conversant with conditions throughout the Sotuheastern States. The duties of these men will be to advise farmers as to feeding, breeding, and caring for livestock under conditions that exist in the territory of the Southern Railway, to assist farmers in organizing livestock clubs and associations, to give practical demonstrations, and to be at the service of farmers without any cost to them, giving any information, rendering assistance, and co-operating in any manner that will tend to aid and encourage the raising of more and better livestock."

The Star is glad to see the wide-awake railroad managements taking up this big subject. The Southern Railway people have bid farewell to theories and have gotten down to practical work. It is this kind of work that is bound to bring results. The newspapers can exploit and theorize, but it is the practical and concrete demonstrations that do the work. Exploitation is all right, for it furnishes the inspiration and the initiative, but when it comes to getting down to brass tacks, the Southern is getting there with both feet. Hence The Star would fall down on its job if it did not give its hearty approval to such a practical, methodical and business-like way of starting the ball to rolling.

The Star heartily commends such work on the part of our Southern trunk lines. They are doing work of the most constructive kind. The management of the railroads might confine themselves to conducting the business of their lines, but they have broadened out and are emphasizing the resources to be developed in their territory. Their reward is remote. Ours is immediate, if we will take advantage of and benefit from their practical demonstration of our opportunities.

The Southern seems to be covering the ground in a comprehensive manner in its plans to promote animal husbandry along its lines. The plans are not all, but the best of all is that they are to be carried out by men who are trained, experienced, efficient and able. That is what really is going to tell. The unequalled adaptabilities of the South for stock-raising and dairying are to be demonstrated and proven. The Star has often asserted and emphasized these peculiar adaptibilities of North Carolina, and now it rejoices that the Southern is in the field to prove the case.

The respective managements of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line, the Southern and the Norfolk Southern are enterprising and constructive and we shall look for marvelous development as the result of their practical plans to induce our people to make the most of their opportunities. They are showing how the trick can be turned. The possibility of turning jack is one thing. Laying hold of the pasteboards and lifting up the nave is the real thing. When our opportunities are practically demonstrated to us there is no excuse for our continued neglect of them.

PLATFORMS THAT PLEDGE.

President Wilson, speaking for the Democratic party, declares that it is not against big business, little business or anybody's business. It is against crooked business and privileged business. Under the Democratic idea, a man may make a million dollars if he does so by reason of his own efficiency, but not on account of the deficiency of others or by taking advantage of others by means of privilege extended by the government.

The government is for the protection of all its citizens, and shall not be used in any particular to foster interests that prey upon the people. The Wilson administration will deserve well of the masses if it will cut out the privilege by which a few pile up colossal fortunes on account of taking advantage of privilege to monopolize certain business and thereupon exact tribute from the people. After all, this is only a practical application of the Jeffersonian doctrine of "equal rights for all, special privileges for none."

In his precedent breaking speech before Congress last Tuesday, the Democratic President urged upon the Democratic Congress the duty of carrying out the party's pledge to the people about revision of the tariff, honestly done. The President's idea that a party should carry out its platform on vital questions, is rather calculated to make parties careful about inserting in their platforms planks upon which it is only intended for people to walk into the party.

A platform plank is a pledge to the people when it complies with a demand of the public. Personal planks inserted in a latform to catch votes do not count, when the public interest is not to be vitally affected by them one way or another. However, when it becomes the custom to remind parties of their platforms and insist upon their observance, it ought to make statesmen and politicians very careful about making platforms of their own instead of making them in response to public demand.

Hereafter the political parties should adopt only platforms that pledge. They should contain planks and not bill boards to attract and deceive voters.

Says the Charleston Post: "An economist very earnestly argues that to reduce the cost of living the world over, gold must be made scarcer. Now speak right up, who has any gold on him?" You can search us, and also our old friend, the average man. Our idea of it is that an immediate redistribution of gold would settle the hash of the high cost of living. Come on with our per capita so we can lay in a few North Carolina hams that cost from 20 to 25 cents a pound, running from tolerably good to better.

Men who regard a common sense act as an innovation are reactionaries. There would be no progress if we were so hidebound as to permit ourselves to be hampered by traditions, controlled by fetishes, and bound hand and foot by precedents. There can be no sacredness in anything that stands in the way of progress. Enlightenment frees men from the idea that they must go a roundabout way by some shrine instead of taking the short cut to the Promised Land.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Editor F. M. Williams, of the Newton Enterprise, and son-in-law of the late Senator Ransom, is slated for the postoffice appointment in his town, Congressman Webb having endorsed his application. He was an ardent supporter of Senator Simmons in last year's Senatorial contest.—Webster's Weekly.

It is a fact worthy of note that the old ring crowd in every American city invariably opposed the adoption of commission government. It was the case in Houston, it was the case in Columbia, it was partly the case in Raleigh, and it is emphatically the case in Charlotte. But in each instance the ringers had to take their medicine, and it is believed that the people in Charlotte who oppose commission form for the politics of the thing will lose.—Raleigh Times.

Three women who were widowed by the sinking of the Titanic will observe the first anniversary of the great disaster by strewing flowers upon the ocean at the spot where their husbands met death. Other women who have equally sad cause to remember the night of April 14th-15th, 1912, may go with them on a liner that is expected to pass over the Titanic's ocean grave almost exactly one year after the big ship plunged towards the bottom of the sea. What terrible memories will seem as real again as the widows pay a tribute of flowers to the men who died during that awful night!—Savannah News.

Talking to The Raleigh Times after a trip to New Orleans, State Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham explains North Carolina's banner cotton yield an acre every year as the result of better cultivation. After leaving North Carolina's boundary he did not see more than half a dozen two-horse plows. In South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana he saw methods abandoned in North Carolina years ago. The little plows used were merely ripping out the old stalks, so the seed could be planted in the ancient way. In North Carolina the farmers are in the habit of breaking up their land for cotton and then harrowing it. They not only prepare it better but employ fertilizer far more judiciously. Against their superior methods the longer season of the more southerly States does not count. It is gratifying and refreshing to have our farmers credited with evincing such qualities as these. It warrants a heightened feeling of pride and confidence in the whole State. —Charlotte Observer.

MAKES YOUR BACKACHE QUICKLY DISAPPEAR

A Few Doses Relieves All Such Miseries—Bladder Weakness, Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism Promptly Vanish.

It is no longer necessary for any one to suffer with backaching, kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders to contend with, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints, and its heart-wrenching pains, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely relieves all such troubles.

Croxone is the most wonderful remedy yet devised for ridding the system of uric acid and driving out all the poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. It acts on the principle of cleaning out the poisons and removing the cause.

It soaks right in through the walls, membranes and linings, like water in a sponge, neutralizes, dissolves, and makes the kidneys sift out and filter away, all the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs clean, strong, healthy and well.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have used, the very principle of Croxone is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it.

If you suffer with pains in your back, and sides, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles, or rheumatism, such as puffy swellings under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, if you are nervous, tired, and run down or bothered with urinary disorders, Croxone will quickly relieve you of your misery. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

MELVIN HORNE SURRENDERS

Alleged Absconding Officer Returns to Wilmington and Gave Himself Up. In County Jail in Default of Bond.

Melvin Horne, formerly a deputy sheriff, against whom the January grand jury returned a bill of indictment for embezzlement of $500 tax money he had collected for Sheriff Cowan, and another bill for violating the prohibition law, and has since that time been kept busy dodging detectives and police officers in a number of Southern cities, returned to Wilmington Saturday night and yesterday morning voluntarily gave himself up. In default of bonds aggregating $1,500 he was committed to jail. Unles he can succeed in raising the bond he will remain in jail until September, when the next term of criminal court convenes.

He denies that ne stole the money he is alleged to have taken, claiming that he carelessly left it on a stone fence near Front and Grace streets, where he counted it, and when he returned it was gone. Sheriff Cowan said yesterday that he had a letter written by Horne to a citizen of this city some weeks ago in which Horne told a different tale about the money. He said in the letter that he lost the bag containing the money at "the railroad." Returning to the spot where he lost it he found the bag, but all the money was gone except $25. Sheriff Cowan said that he has the letter in his safe and will use it as evidence at the trial.

Horne was worn and haggard and showed signs of having endured much since his departure from this city early in January. He talked freely to Jailor Branch and deputy sheriffs of his experience since leaving Wilmington and declared that he had much rather be in jail in Wilmington than running about the country, being constantly sought by detectives. He told of several narrow escapes from capture. During his travels he visited Florence, S. C.; Savannah, Ga.; Mobile, Ala.; Columbia, S. C.; Cincinnati and other places, besides having spent three days in this city about five weeks ago. He said that in order to avoid arrest at Florence, S. C., where he had reason to believe he would be met by detectives, he jumped from a train running at the rate of about 40 miles an hour. As it happened, he was not much hurt as the result of his experience. He recites another close time with detectives at Savannah. He said that he was arrested in a hotel there by detectives, who took him to the street and then turned to speak to some one. Taking advantage of the situation, Horne says he dashed back into the hotel, ran upstairs with the detectives in hot pursuit. Reaching the fire escape he climbed down and ran to the station, where he caught a train just pulling out.

Horne says that he arrived in Wilmington Saturday night. Yesterday morning word was received by Deputy Sheriff Kelly and Constable Davis that Horne was at a boarding house at the northwest corner of Front and Orange streets. They started up there after him, but on the way they met Horne, in company with Special Deputy J. C. King, on his way to the sheriff's office to surrender. He was then and there placed under arrest by Officer Kelly. On his way down Horne stopped in Magistrate McGowan's office and called Sheriff Cowan over the telephone, asking if there were not some way he could arrange matters. Sheriff Cowan told him he would see him later at the office. However, as there was nothing the sheriff could do and Horne could not give bond right away he was taken on to jail.

The only surprise expressed by those who knew Horne best was that he did not give himself up sooner. Right after the indictments were returned against him several persons who knew the man intimately predicted that he would give himself up in a few weeks. Their prediction came true, even if a little delayed.

Information was received here a few weeks ago that Horne was in Savannah, Ga. Sheriff Cowan wired the police in Savannah to arrest him. Sheriff Cowan also received messages at different times informing him that Horne was in Cincinnati, New Orleans and other places. Capiases would be sent immediately to those towns, but it appears that Horne always had just left when the papers arrived.

ON TO WASHINGTON

Aspirants for Postoffice Gather in Capital City—Some News Today

The fight for the Wilmington postmastership seems to be on in earnest now and about half of the aspirants are in Washington to confer with Congressman Godwin and Senators Simmons and Overman. Recorder John J. Furlong, who is said to have been given assurances that he would have the endorsement of Congressman Godwin, has been in Washington and Baltimore all the week; Messrs. J. B. Mercer and Brooke G. Empie, who are also aspirants, are said to have left here Wednesday evening for the Capital City. Mr. Geo. H. Bellamy, of Brunswick county, was in the city yesterday on his way to Washington and it is reported that he may have something to say to Congressman Godwin relative to the local postmastership.

It was reported that one of the candidates now in Washington wired to a political friend here yesterday that Godwin appeared to be determined to support Recorder Furlong for the postmastership. A number of letters and telegrams are said to have been sent to Congressman Godwin and Senators Simmons and Overman in opposition to Recorder Furlong.

Mr. D. McEachern, for many years chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, is being urged, report had it yesterday, by many friends to become an aspirant for the appointment in the event of a deadlock. So far as known he has not entered the race.

It is believed taht one of the several candidates will receive the endorsement of the Senators and Representative today so the recommendation may go immediately to the President.

Building Inspector Here

Mr. B. F. Keith, collector of customs, is anxious to have the work started on the proposed new customs house for Wilmington and is bringing every influence possible to bear upon the Treasury Department to have the plans prepared now so the construction may be commenced in a short time. Mr. Keith said yesterday that the additional appropriation granted by Congress is already available for the building. At the request of Mr. Keith a visit was made to Wilmington Wednesday by Mr. Irving D. Porter, a building inspector of the Treasury Department. Mr. Keith showed him the condition of the present building and urged that work be started on the new building as soon as possible.

MONTHLY MEETING HELD

County Commissioners in Session Yesterday, Sitting as Auditing Committee—Report of the County Treasurer.

Sitting as an auditing committee, the Board of County Commissioners was in session for nearly two hours yesterday afternoon with Chairman Willard and all members in attendance. Most of the time of the session was taken up in the audit of accounts and approval of bills, though some time was found to discuss in an informal way general county matters. The report of the county treasurer, Mr. J. A. Orrell, for the month of March, is as follows:

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Cases Before the Acting Recorder Yesterday Morning.

Richard McGowan, a negro youth 15 or 16 years old, fared the worst of any defendant in the Recorder's court yesterday morning, receiving a total of nine months on the roads. He was charged with larceny in two cases. According to the contention of the State he stole a bicycle from Mr. Arthur Beach and then pilfered a lantern from Mr. V. M. Gilbert. He was adjudged guilty in each case and was sentenced to six months for stealing the bicycle and three months for appropriating the lantern.

Three negro youths were before the court on a charge of disorderly conduct at or in front of a restaurant on Second street, between Market and Princess. Arthur Bennett and Ezekiel Williams were found guilty and given three months each on the county roads, while Murphy Maultsby was found not guilty.

The judgment in the case against Dave Jordan, colored, who was sentenced Tuesday to 12 months on the roads for assault with deadly weapon, was changed yesterday to a fine of $50 and costs. Luby Herring, white, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct at the carnival grounds Tuesday night, was found not guilty.

The case against Mr. Jake James, who has been superintendent of the county convict camp in East Wilmington for several years, charged with being drunk and shooting inside the city limits a negro convict named "Boy" Frank, some weeks ago, was again continued, Frank not being able to attend trial yet on account of his wound. Frank was a "trusty" at the camp. Mr. James is No longer superintendent. The case was continued until April 24th, but it may be reached before that time.

The Co-operative Market.

After organizing the business and getting it to running smoothly, Mr. W. R. Applebury has resigned as general manager of the Citizens' Co-operative Market Company, on South Front street, opposite the Front street market house. The business will be continued under the management of Mr. Craig, an experienced butcher. An officer of the company stated last night that the market has done a rushing business ever since it was opened April 1st and that with a continuation of the present liberal support of the people the plan to reduce the cost of living in Wilmington will prove a success. He said that already the retail price of beef had been lowered five cents a pound as a result of the new market.

Mr. C. F. W. Rehder, the well known Wilmington florist is just back from New York where he attended the International Flower Show which was in progress in Central Palace. Mr. Rehder was honored with a place as one of the judges of one section of the show and when it isknown the prize list was more than $20,000, it can be realized what an important post this was.

MEETS NEXT AT WALLACE

Spring Session of the Wilmington Presbytery Came to a Close Last Night—Delegates Returning to Their Homes.

Crowding the work of two sessions into one, the Wilmington Presbytery, after a three-days meeting at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, this city, was enabled to adjourn sine die at 11:30 o'clock last night and the lay delegates and ministers will be leaving for their homes this morning. The final session of the Presbytery was put down on the programme to be held this morning, but by working hard and late the business was disposed of last night.

The meeting has been a most successful one in every respect. The attendance has been fairly large and the greatest possible interest was taken in the various matters that came up for consideration. A great amount of business was transacted at each session. The Fall meeting of the Presbytery will be held at Duplin Roads church, Wallace, beginning on September 24th.

The Presbytery opened yesterday morning with devotional exercises by Rev. P. McIntyre. Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church, was received as a visiting brother. Much of the remainder of the morning session was taken up with various reports. Rev. James Thomas preached a strong sermon on "Family Religion."

The afternoon session began at 3 o'clock, reports from various committees being continued. Committees were appointed to install Rev. P. L. Clark as pastor of the Burgaw group of churches during the month of June. A committee was also named to install Rev. James Thomas as pastor of the Clinton church.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Ruling Elder J. E. Kelly, of Mount Olive, were named as Commissioners to the General Assembly, which meets in Atlanta, Ga.

Upon motion the trustees of the James Sprunt Institute at Kenansville whose terms expire in 1913 were re-elected.

The first matter to be taken up at the evening session, which was devoted mostly to Home Missions, was the report of the permanent committee on Home Missions, made by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells. Addresses were then made as follows: "General Assembly's Home Missions," by Rev. R. A. Lapsley, Jr.; "Synod's Evangelistic Work," Rev. M. McG. Shields; and "Presbyterial Home Missions," Rev. W. P. M. Currie.

The report of the permanent committee on Home Missions was then taken up and adopted in sections and as a whole. The committee recommended the purchase of a tent to be used in evangelistic work.

In making his report of the colored evangelization Rev. J. M. Plowden, of this city, remarked that the First Church and St. Andrew's have taken steps to secure a man to give all his time to this work in Wilmington. Dr. McClure, in supplementing Mr. Plowden's statement, said that the First church would take the work in the southern part of the city and St. Andrew's in the northern part.

Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel church, made report of the building league, of which he is secretary and treasurer. The Presbytery decided to ask each church to endeavor to secure at least five new members of the building league.

A resolution of thanks to the congregation of St. Andrew's for their hospitality and entertainment was offered by Rev. P. L. Clark and adopted by a rising vote.

Rev. Dr. Wells said that he observed that the publishing house in Richmond continues to send out an Easter Sunday School lesson. The General Assembly, he said, had asked that this be stopped, and he moved that the stated clerk be instructed to write the publishing house a letter calling their attention to the fact. The motion prevailed.

After the reading and adoption of the minutes of the day's session the Presbytery adjourned sine die.

"SUMMER REST" PROPERTY

Trial Begun in Suit Involving Ownership of Valuable Lands

Superior Court is now engaged in the trial of the case entitled Mary E. Irving, et al., against Pembroke Jones, et al., in which the plaintiffs seek to recover the property on Wrightsville Sound known as "Summer Rest," a portion of which was purchased some years ago by Mr. Pembroke Jones. The suit has been on the docket before and was non-suited two or three years ago. There is an array of counsel on both sides. The plaintiffs are represented by K. C. Sidbury, Esqs., and Scull & McNorton, while appearing for the defendants are Rountree & Carr, John D. Bellamy & Son, Herbert McClammy and Thos. W. Davis, Esqs. Two witnesses for the plaintiff were examined yesterday afternoon.

Non-suit was entered in the case of the Standard Supply Co., against the Atlantic Coast Line. In the case of J. C. Vereen against J. H. Watters, in which the plaintiff was suing for alleged damages for malicious prosecution, the deefndant demurred to the complaint upon the grounds that it does not state facts sufficient to sustain a cause of action. Judge Justice sustained the demurrer and dismissed the case. Counsel for the plaintiff gave notice of appeal.

BERRY SHIPMENTS

Three Cars Expected to Move From Chadbourn Section Today

The leading article in this week's issue of The Carolina Fruit & Truckers' Journal, which will be out today, is with reference to the damage done to berries and other truck by the cold wave a few days ago and the prospects for this season's crops. Five cars of berries have already been shipped from the Chadbourn section and seven cars have been ordered for use today and tomorrow, making a total of 12 cars for the week. The following is taken from The Journal's article:

"But for the cold wave of Sunday and Monday the carload movement in berries would have been double this amount, but berries are ripening in spite of cool weather and each day witnesses the shipment of one or more carloads from the Chadbourn section, while express shipments from the same section and points along the W. & W. Railroad are being made daily. The ruling prices are quite satisfactory and everything at this writing points to a very successful season, both as to prices, demand and supply. The damage to peas, beans and other vegetables was greater than anything else, but in all instances thus far heard from, replanting has been promptly resorted to and the crop will no doubt be quite as large as had there been no frost or cold wave last Sunday night.

"The outer leaves of field lettuce were scorched in many cases, and by some of the growers it is claimed that the damage has been greater than in the case of strawberries. But it should be remembered that the outer leaves of lettuce have very little to do with the head and it is the head and the inside that counts and tickles the palate. It also requires some cool weather to make lettuce head up properly. Lettuce prices continue to rule high, ordinary to fancy selling around $1.50 to $2.00 per hamper. Bed lettuce has about run its race, the open field stock having already begun to move out in carload lots. Radishes, beets, cabbage, etc., are also selling at good prices and the markets we are pleased to know are cleaning up regularly every day. As a matter of fact, we have heard it rumored during the past few days that lettuce is likely to go as high as $3.50 to $4.00 per hamper for extra fancy stock before the close of the season hereabouts. Fancy prices these would be, but we would like to have it known and understood that the growers in this territory have an unusually fine crop to gather and ship from now on, and this section can be relied upon to furnish some of the best that is going.

"In order to ascertain for themselves the extent of the damage, Messrs. J. B. Scott and R. G. Geesline, of the Fruit Growers' Express, spent yesterday and day before in the Chadbourn section, during which time they personally inspected several berry fields, and on their return to the city last night, told the editor of this paper that their investigation revealed the fact that the damage by the cold wave and frost in that section practically amounted to nothing—certainly not over five or ten per cent. They also had reports from different points along the W. & W. Railroad, which coincided exactly with the Trucker Journal's reports from the same section. It will thus be seen that the damage after all to strawberries is very light as compared with the first impressions. We regard the damage to potatoes as amounting to nothing as the tops of those that were out were only nipped and they will come out again as vigorously as ever. As for beans, peas, etc., those that were killed are being replanted promptly."

BENEFITS EQUAL DAMAGE

This Decision of Commission in Condemnation Proceedings

The commission appointed by the Clerk of Superior Court in the case of the Tidewater Power Co., against Archibald J. Hanby, et al., an action brought to condemn certain property of the defendants between the city limits and Sunset Park to be used as a right-of-way for street car line, gas mains, electric lights, etc., yesterday visited the property in question and after taking into consideration the quality and quantity of land and the inconveniences likely to result to the owners, estimated the damage at $500. But this is offset by an estimate of the commission that the special benefits which the owners of the property will receive from the construction of the works, this also being placed at $500. So the decision of the commission was that the damage to the property is not in excess of the benefits to be derived from the improvement. Messrs. H. F. Wilder, Henry Horne and L. W. Moore composed the commission. Certain other property between the city and Sunset Park was condemned some time ago by the company. It is stated that with the condemnation of the Hanby property the Tidewater will then have its right-of-way from the city through to Sunset Park.

Negro Dies Suddenly.

Everett Hall, colored, who has been employed at the Almont factory, became suddenly ill while on his way to his home in the city last night about 7 o'clock and was taken into the pumping station at Hilton, where he died about ten minutes later. Hall was conscious to the last and complained of a hurting in the chest. Dr. Joseph Akerman, the coroner, was notified. He did not deem an inquest necessary and gave permission for removal of the body. Hall was about 45 years old and lived in Love's alley.

OLD AT 40

Some Younger at 65 Than Others Are at 40 Years

So many people whom you meet about the time they reach 40 begin by saying "I can't do this, and I can't do that, because I'm getting old now," they beign to act old, feel old and they are older in appearance than many who are much more advanced in years.

When you begin to feel old, when your energy begins to fail build yourself up with our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It is a wonderful blood-maker and strengthener.

Mr. J. N. Kelly, aged 75, who lives at Lake Charles, La., says: "I took Vinol for a run-down condition, it not only built up my strength, but I feel fifteen years younger than I did before taking it."

Thousands of old people have found in Vinol just the medicine they need to build up the feeble, weakened system and create strength. If it fails we return your money.—Robt. R. Bellamy, druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

..Theatrical..

The mere announcement of the forthcoming visit to the Academy of Music next Wednesday night of the noted beauty, Valeska Suratt, in "The Kiss Waltz", has aroused unusual interest, and the number of inquiries indicates that play-goers are aware of the fact that one of the most successful theatric amusements of New York is to afford them a rare treat in a musical way. Valeska Suratt is the present-day queen of stage beauties, and "The Kiss Waltz" is one of the greatest of the famous New York Casino productions. It is a mixture of Viennese operetta and American comedy, with a dash of French spice thrown in. It was received at the New York Casino—which is undoubtedly the best known musical comedy theatre in America, on account of the many successes that it has housed—rapturously for 150 nights, and duplicated the New York success for several weeks in Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia. The music is described as popularly tuneful, the comedy as hilarious, though polite, the costumes are said to be models of current fashions in London and Paris, and the cast, as promised, is composed of singers not usually seen outside of grand opera.

Judging from the alluring programme, the entire piece is filled with big musical numbers that have become world-famed, and the comedy is described as of a sort that will put to shame most of the so-called humor of the ordinary musical piece. The coming of "The Kiss Waltz" will be one of the really big theatrical events of the season. A typical Casino chorus of 50 pretty misses, gorgeously gowned, selected from among hundreds of applicants for their beauty and ability to sing and dance, is a brilliant feature.

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's Monday.

At the Bijou.

At the Bijou Theatre today by special request, "The Great Steeplechase" will be given, a thrilling race that is sure to send the blood tingling through one's veins. The race is sensationally pictured and will be well worth the seeing. Another big picture feature is a Kalem, "Grandfather". This is a strong dramatic and will be witnessed with much pleasure for those who prefer the dramatic to other features of popular entertainment. Then there will be other features at the Bijou today and its solid comfort at all times, regardless of weather, its perfect ventilation and the small price of five cents admission to any part of the house will commend this show place to all amusement seekers in Wilmington.

Big Day at The Grand

At the Grand Theatre today one of the best bills of the week will be offered. Mr. Harry Harris will sing an illustrated song today, "Let My Girl Alone," and in this he will be seen to the best advantage. Then another musical feature will be Mr. Billy Hoffman, of New York, violinist, who succeeds Prof. Barbey with the orchestra which was never better. Then there is an Essanay photoplay to lead the pictures, "The Scratch," a comedy scream of a thousand feet that will hold the interest from start to finish and will produce a laugh with every flicker. Then another will be a Lubin, "The Gift of the Storm." This is a story dealing with the leading lady in a big troupe and Herbert Delane. This will be found quite interesting and pleasing to all who attend. A third picture, equally as good, only not featured, will be given for good measure.

COURT STRIPS GIRL OF GEMS.

Takes Engagement Ring and Other Gifts of Fiancee—Bankrupt.

New York, April 9.—The government today withdrew a diamond engagement ring from the left hand of a young woman in order to protect the creditors of a firm involved in involuntary bankruptcy proceedings. It also removed a bracelet from her wrist and a lavalliere from about her neck.

Judge Mayer, in Federal Court, was informed by the receiver of Fliss Bros. & Gordon, clothing manufacturers, that Max Gordon, one of the partners, had bought $600 worth of jewelry for a young woman just before the bankruptcy petition was filed. Gordon explained that the young woman was his fiancee, said the report, and he had thought the firm's business was prosperous. The girl was in court and Judge Mayer directed her to surrender the jewelry.

Many testified to the good character of the defendant and declared deceased was a man of violent temper and treated his family harshly.

Grandma Talks About Babies

Has a large Circle of Listeners Who Profit by Her Wisdom and Experience.

In almost any settled community there's a grandma who knows Mother's Friend. Not only is she reminiscent of her own experience, but it was through her recommendation that so many young, expectant mothers derived the comfort and blessing of this famous remedy.

Mother's Friend is applied externally to the abdomen, stomach and breasts, allays all pain, avoids all nausea, and prevents caking of the breasts.

It is quickly and wonderfully penetrating, permits the muscles to expand without the strain on the ligaments, and prepares the system so thoroughly that the crisis is passed almost without the slightest distress. Thus there need be no such thing as dread or fear.

No better nor more cheering advice can be given the expectant mother than to suggest the use of Mother's Friend. She will take courage from the beginning. The days will be cheerful, the nights restful. Thus the health is preserved, the mind is in repose and the period is an unending one of quiet, joyful anticipation.

You can obtain Mother's Friend of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle. Do not forget nor neglect to be supplied with this greatest remedy ever devised for motherhood. It is unfailing. Write at once to Bradfield Regulator Co., 133 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their very interesting and instructive book of advice for expectant mothers.

COTTON MARKET WAS LOWER REPORTS FROM WHEAT CROP

More Encouraging News As to Weather and Situation in Mississippi Valley—Fluctuations Were Somewhat Irregular

New York, April 10.—The cotton market was lower today, owing to prospects for more favorable weather in the South and reports that the crest of the floodtide had passed through the river at Memphis. The close was steady, but at practically the lowest, and from 13 to 17 points under the final figures of last night.

The market opened steady, at a decline of 1 to 4 points in spite of lower cables. Reports that there had been a serious break in the levee at Wilson, Ark., combined with further rains in the central belt seemed to be bringing in a good many buying orders during the early trading. Fluctuations were consequently somewhat irregular, but there was plenty of cotton for sale, owing to the predictions of clearing weather in the belt, and the market soon turned easier. Reports from Memphis that the river was beginning to fall at that point were accompanied by selling orders, and as prices here worked lower, local traders expressed the opinion that the water in the flooded sections would rapidly recede. A preliminary crop report issued by a Southern expert, indicating that preliminary conditions were better than the average over 85 per cent. of the belt, and about normal over the balance, probably added to the confidence of sellers while there were also favorable private crop reports from Alabama and Texas. Covering checked the decline from time to time, but nothing more than slight rallies occurred and the market was rather nervous and unsettled in the late trading. According to local spot handlers, the recent figures of world's mills stocks of American cotton suggest that consumption this season will not exceed 14,500,000 bales, and possibly the tendency to reduce estimates of requirements, combined with uncertainty as to the effect of tariff legislation, was a factor in the selling movement. Spot house brokers were among the sellers of old crop months, but there seemed to be a considerable demand for May, at a premium of two points over July.

Spot cotton closed quiet. Middling uplands, 12.50; do. gulf, 12.75. Sales, 100 bales.

Futures closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

Speculative Sentiment Confused and Trading Dull — Pennsylvania, New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio Active.

New York, April 10.—Movements of stocks today were irregular and speculative sentiment was confused. The alternate periods of advancing and declining prices represented little more than the momentary response to activities of professional traders, who appeared to have the market in their own hands.

Trading was dull, much of the day and displayed a lack of initiative, in the absence of new impulses from any quarters. On the upward swings, gains of a point or more were made by some of the leading issues and of declines there were corresponding losses. Net changes on the day were small. Pennsylvania at 1.14½; New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio, all touched new low point for the year. Selling of Pennsylvania was carried on heavily at times, following yesterday's announcement of a new issue of stock.

The decline of 187,000 tons of unfilled orders shown by the Steel Corporation in its monthly report had no effect on the stock—such a decrease having been clearly forecasted. That the figures fell off less than 200,000 tons indicated that orders continued heavy last month.

European buying of stocks here continued. London's purchases today were about 30,000 shares, chiefly of Steel, Amalgamated Copper, Union Pacific and Erie. The Bank of England's statement today disclosed a further strengthening of reserves, amounting to over 3 per cent. in the last week. The sale of $10,000,000 New York Central one-year 5 per cent. notes in London was accepted as a further indication of the better feeling abroad toward American securities.

Lower prices prevailed for many of the important bonds. New York Central 3½ lost 2 points. Total sales, par value, $2,720,000. United States bonds unchanged on call. Total sales today, 376,000 shares.

JNO. C. PARRISH DEAD

Well Known Robeson Citizen—Maxton News Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., April 10.—Mr. Jno. C. Parish, a contractor and for five terms mayor of Maxton and later superintendent of the engineering force of the public road construction of Robeson county, died here at his home last night.

About 7 o'clock Mr. Parrish was seen and talked with by different ones on the streets and seemed in his usual good health. At about 9 o'clock he was found in an unconscious condition on the street leading to his home. Near him was his bicycle from which he had fallen. On being carried to his home nearby and an examination being made it was found that he had suffered a stroke of paralysis. In spite of all the efforts of his physician he never rallied and died about 2 o'clock this morning. He is survived by a wife, two sons, Will and Marvin, and by three daughters, Misses Katie, May and Lillie.

The funeral will take place at Carolina Presbyterian church, of which he was a member, near his old homestead about 14 miles from Maxton tomorrow morning.

Mr. B. F. Maness returned from Charlotte last night, where he had been to consult an oculist in regard to an accident he had a few days before. While superintending the erection of a house a nail flew out from under the hammer of one of the carpenters and struck him in the eye. As a result of this unusual accident he will lose the sight of the member.

Tuesday afternoon Maxton and McCall played a very ragged game of baseball on the local diamond. Maxton won with a score of 15 to 1. Wednesday afternon a game was played with the team from Rockingham and the locals took their scalp by a score of 11 to 1.

Mr. Stockton, a carpenter at work on the residence being built for J. M. Armstrong, cashier and vice president of the Bank of Robeson, missed his footing and fell to the ground, breaking his ankle.

FRED OLIVER DEAD

Well Known Charlotte Citizen Passed Away at Early Hour

Charlotte, N. C., April 10.—The city was shocked on awakening this morning to hear that Mr. Frederick Oliver, one of its most prominent men and foremost citizens, had passed in the night, his death occurring at 10 minutes after 1 o'clock at his residence, on Sunnyside avenue, Piedmont Park.

Mr. Oliver's death was sudden, but not without warning, as he had been almost acutely sick for several days, and not well for some months, he suffering with chronic erysipelas and shortness of breath. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia, resulting from a cold he contracted Friday last, while working in his garden. He became overheated, and afterward developed a severe cold. Through Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights he was unable to sleep, his family being up with him the greater part of those nights. With his characteristic vigor and energy he insisted on attending to his business up to yesterday. As late as yesterday he was up street. Yesterday afternoon he remained indoors, being scarcely able to breathe, and complaining of his head. He was derilious at times throughout the afternoon, but rallied mentally before night.

His breathing which was labored became better about 12:30, and Mrs. Oliver and Miss Alida Oliver, the latter the oldest daughter, who were the only persons in the house, felt relieved, but continued their watch. At 1 o'clock Mr. Oliver breathed deeply several times, and in a few minutes death came, the end being free from suffering and gentle as sleep.

GREAT HEALTH MEETING

Experts to Gather at Greenville, S. C., For a Conference

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greenville, S. C., April 10.—Health workers from four States will gather in Greenville May 19th to 24th to attend a Municipal Sanitary Congress, and to take part in the various discussions of pressing health problems of today. Invitations have been sent out to practically every important city in South Carolina, and to the larger cities of North Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee, asking them to take part in this unique congress. Replies already received from a number of them, indicate that there will be a representative attendance from every section of this territory.

Dr. J. Adams Hayne, of Columbia State health officer, for South Carolina, will preside over the gathering. Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, State health officer of North Carolina, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on an important phase of the public health problems of the present day, and letters have been received from various other cities assuring their interest in the gathering and stating that they will be well represented.

The congress will be held here during the "Made-in-Greenville" Exposition, the Pure Food and Health Exposition, the Greenville Horse Show, and other interesting events, and a general home-coming week is also planned for the Mountain City during these days.

Dr. Clarence E. Smith, commissioner of health, for Greenville, has charge of the plans for the Sanitary Congress.

COLD STORAGE PRODUCTS.

Prices Have Become Higher Since Industry Was Commercialized.

Washington, April 10.—Higher prices for cold storage products have been the rule ever since the industry became commercially important, as shown by data for more than 30 years back collected by the department of Agriculture.

George K. Holmes, chief of the division of production and distribution of the department, has discovered from a comprehensive study of these figures that from 1902 to 1911, there was a "general but not invariable rise of prices" as compared with the preceding years before cold storage was a developed industry. As to uniformity of prices, he finds that the "contention of the cold storage interests that cold storage has counted for uniformity of prices, is largely true, although it is not true for all commodities nor for all comparisons of years and periods of years."

There is a tendency towards such uniformity, he says, in dressed poultry, butter, eggs and mutton while the reverse is true as to fresh beef and fresh pork.

Calcutta, India, April 10.—A detachment of Chinese troops today attacked a battalion of police attached to a British surveying party on the frontier of Burma. The hill men in considerable numbers joined forces with the Chinees. The British column repulsed the attack, but sustained a few casualties. Among the wounded was Sir Charles Bernard, chief commissioner and head of the surveying party.

COTTON MILL MEN.

American Manufacturers Conclude Session in Washington—Tariff.

Washington, April 10.—The final session of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association ended today with the election of officers. The nominations committee, appointed on the first day of the convention, has prepared a slate.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer and of the committee on resolutions and the committee on tariff and other legislation were read.

The following officers and members of the board of governors were elected:

President, S. W. Cramer, Charlotte, N. C.; vice president, T. I. Hickman, Augusta, Ga.; secretary and treasurer, C. B. Bryant, Charlotte, N. C.

The new board members are G. H. Lanier, Georgia; F. E. Calloway, Georgia; J. D. Hammett, South Carolina; A. A. Thompson, North Carolina; Scott Maxwell, Alabama; Arthur R. Sharp, Massachusetts, and C. B. Armstrong, North Carolina.

During the discussion of the proposed reduction in cotton tariff rates, Retiring President Erwin took issue with Secretary Redfield, who declared that if the cotton industry needed protection, its members "would be industrial cowards."

Mr. Erwin declared that Secretary Redfield knew little or nothing regarding the cotton industry and that he would not have made his remark if he had been familiar with conditions.

"I am satisfied," continued Mr. Erwin, "that President Wilson will insist that certain measures be enacted in conformity with party pledges, possibly free wool, free steel and free sugar. But I have never seen any pledge regarding free or nearly free cotton. If there had been such a party pledge, Mr. Wilson would not be President of the United States today."

The report of the committee on tariff on cotton becomes law, it will "do irreparable injury to the industry because a condition of depression in cotton manufacturing that will be appalling."

YOUNG LAWYER PASSES

Stephen Glenn Hudson Dead at Greensboro—Other News

Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., April 10.—Mr. Stephen Glenn Hudson, one of Greensboro's best known and most promising young lawyers, died last evening shortly before 7 o'clock at the home of his father on Asheboro street, after an illness of several months. Mr. Hudson had been in declining health for some time and five months ago went to Montrose in Moore county, in the hope of regaining his lost health, but the disease with which he was suffering had too strongly fastened itself upon him and a month ago he returned to his home here, with little hope of recovering. Mr. Hudson was 25 years of age, being born here in 1888. In October, 1911, Mr. Hudson was married to Miss Pauline Sheep, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Sheep, of Elizabeth City, who, with a three-month-old daughter, survive. Mr. Hudson was a consistent member of the Westminster Presbyterian church and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

News has been received here of the death yesterday at Charleston, W. Va., of Mr. W. C. Waitworth, formerly a resident of this place and son of Mrs. Waitworth, who now resides here. The message stated that the remains would be shipped to Greensboro for burial. Mr. Waitworth at one time was engaged in business here with Mr. J. C. Oliver. A brother, who resides in the county, also survives.

Miss Emma Johnson, daughter of Editor J. N. Johnson, of the Mt. Airy News, was brought to Greensboro last evening to undergo an operation at St. Leo's Hospital. Miss Johnson, who is just 17 years of age, was stricken two days ago and it was decided that an operation was imperative. She was accompanied to Greensboro by her father and sister-in-law, Mrs. May Johnson. The operation was performed today and strong hopes are entertained for her ultimate recovery.

Washington, April 10.—A government bureau to control the trade in American tobacco is proposed in a resolution by Representative Flood which would direct Secretary Bryan to confer with Austria, Italy, France, Spain and Japan with a view to arranging for the tobacco monopolies of these countries to secure their American tobacco through a government bureau.

Atlanta, Ga., April 10.—Delegates from several Southern cities attended the opening sessions today and tonight of the 25th annual Southern conference of the Unitarian Church. President Charles H. Patterson, of New Orleans, presided at the afternoon session and delivered his annual address. Rev. George Kent, of New Orleans, wash the principal speaker at tonight's session.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 10. — The "clean towel" bill, which was designed to require a clean towel for every person in a public wash room, was defeated in the lower house of the Pennsylvania Legislature today, receiving 83 votes, or 21 short of the constitutional majority. The bill carried a penalty of $1 for the first violation of its provisions and $5 for each subsequent violation.

FIVE THOUSAND DRUGGISTS.

Unite in Opinion Regarding One Medicine.

If any one should know the value of a medicine it is the retail druggist who sells it.

Therefore, when over five thousand of the best retail druggists in the country recommend Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, as the greatest tonic reconstructor and strength creator they have ever sold, it must indicate the value of Vinol.

We could publish columns of such testimony as the following:

Mr. E. C. Spens, druggist of Alpena, Mich., says: "Vinol is the ideal tonic reconstructor, as it really today is the best remedy we have on our shelves."

Mr. C. F. Bucholtz, the leading druggist of Springfield, Ohio, says: "Vinol gives better satisfaction than any medicine I have sold in my store."

We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person or any person suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

MONEY FOR 'GETTES.

The Militants Secure Contributions of 15,000 Pounds Sterling

London, April 10.—"Our answer to the government's cat an dmouse bill is 15,000 pounds added to our war chest tonight," said "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, in closing the suffragette meeting at Albert Hall, over which she presided. It was the biggest meeting ever held by the Women's Social and Political Union.

The subscriptions included two for 1,500 pounds ($7,500) each and two for 1,000 pounds each. Among the American contributors were Mrs. August Belmont and Mrs. J. J. White, of New York, and Miss Scott-Troy, of San Francisco.

Great laughter greeted the announcement of a subscription of half of a crown, accompanied by a bogus note, signed by the chancellor of the exchequer, David Lloyd-George. The note read: "I have great pleasure in presenting to you my first dividend from my Marconi wireless shares."

In opening the meeting Mrs. Drummond said:

"Fight on! Fight on! That is the message that Mrs. Pankhurst would send us from Holloway jail, were she able to get it out, and fight on is what we intend to do."

Mrs. Drummond won applause when she quoted incendiary passages from the speeches of Sir Edward Carson, Andrew Bonar Law and Frederick E. Smith, on the Ulster question, substituting for "men" the word "women" and for "ulster," "votes for women."

Since the government did not arrest these politicians for such "incitements to violence," she said, "I presume that it is safe for me to repeat what they said with the slight changes made."

When a bouquet from Miss Zeelie Emerson was handed to Mrs. Drummond there was an outburst of cheers.

George Lansbury, ex-socialist member of the House of Commons, demanded the immediate release of Mrs. Pankhurst and her fellow prisoners and abandonment of the "torture of forcible feeding." He urged the militants to continue to burn and destroy property.

"If a leader is taken away," he said, "let a dozen women step forward and take her place. This is a war in which we shall do our best to preserve human life but show no regard for property of any kind."

The whole audience rising responded lustily to a call for three cheers for Mrs. Pankhurst.

PRESIDENT HIS GODFATHER.

Mr. Wilson is Called Upon to Exercise a Brand New Office.

Washington, April 10.—Woodrow Manch, who first saw the light of day March 4th, in Wapato, Yakima county, Wash., is to have for his Godfather the President of the United States, and a telegram announcing the honor will be received by his proud father, Peter Manch, today. Young Woodrow did not solicit the honor, but his father did. President Wilson in accepting made it clear that his action was not to be taken by the country at large as an indication that he proposed to stand in the same relationship to all babies born on the day of his inauguration.

Manch wrote to the President in German and the letter had to be translated. He informed the President that young Woodrow was the 16th child that had been born to him and Mrs. Manch and that he, Mrs. Manch and his sons and daughters of voting age were all Democrats and had cast a solid vote at the polls last November for the Democratic ticket. He added that when the new arrival reached the age of 21, he, too, would vote the Democratic ticket or a riot in the Manch family would follow.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

Three-Year-Old Daughter of Holly Springs Merchant the Victim

Raleigh, N. C., April 10.—The 3-year-old daughter of W. L. Brewer, a merchant of Holly Springs, 20 miles south of Raleigh, was burned to death today while Mrs. Brewer, leaving the child alone, went for a pail of water. When she returned, finding the little girl enveloped in flames, she dashed the water on her and extinguished the fire, but the child soon died from the injuries.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And for Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three Summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides, and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up and grew so much stronger in three months I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you what it has done for them.

Try Cardui today.

For Councilman

If you own a house or expect to own one; if you rent a house or expect to rent one, what profit to own a house, vacant, because exorbitant taxation makes the rent so high that a tenant cannot pay it, or how can new people come to a city, where too high a taxation prevents the erection of dwellings for them? Let us make both ends meet. We have a good city, if evenly balanced.
